Habit-forming Medicines.

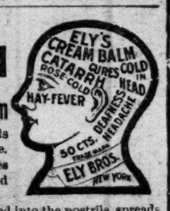
Whatever may be the fact as to many of the so-called patent medicines containing injurious ingredients as broadly published in some journals of more or less influence, this publicity has certainly been of great benefit in arousing needed attention to this subject. It has, in a considerable measure, resulted in the most intelligent people avoiding such foods and medicines as may be fairly suspected of containing the injurious ingredients complained of. Recognizing this fact some time ago, Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., "took time by the forelock," as it were, and published broadcast all the ingredients of which his popular medicines are composed. Thus he has completely forestalled all harping critics and all opposition that might otherwise be urged against his medicines, because they are now OF KNOWN COMPOSITION. Furthermore, from the formula printed on every bottle wrapper, it will be seen that these medicines contain no alcohol or other habit-forming drugs. Neither do they contain any narcotics or injurious agents, their ingredients being purely vegetable, extracted from the roots of medicinal plants found growing in the depths of our American forests and of well recognized curative virtues.

Instead of alcohol, which even in small portions long continued, as in obstinate cases of diseases, becomes highly objectionable from its tendency to produce a craving for stimulants, Dr. Pierce employs chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine, which of itself is a valuable remedy in many cases of chronic diseases, being a superior demulcent, antiseptic, antiferment and supporting nutritive. It enhances the curative action of the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherrybark and Bloodroot, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery," in all bronchial, throat and lung affections attended with severe coughs. As will be seen from the writings of the eminent Drs. Grover Coe, of New York; Bartholow, of Jefferson Medical College, Phila.; Scudder, of Cincinnati; Ellingwood, of Chicago; Hale, of Chicago, and others, who stand as leaders in their several schools of practice, the foregoing agents are the very best ingredients that Dr. Pierce could have chosen to make up his famous "Discovery" for the cure of not only bronchial, throat and lung affections, but also of chronic catarrh in all its various forms wherever located.

Nasal CATARRH

In all its stages.

Ely's Cream Balm



cleanses, soothes and heals the diseased membrane. It cures catarrh and drives away a cold in the head quickly.

Cream Balm is placed into the nostrils, spreads over the membrane and is absorbed. Relief is immediate and a cure follows. It is not drying—does not produce sneezing. Large Size, 50 cents at Druggists or by mail; Trial Size, 10 cents.

ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren Street, New York

GOT HIS HAIR BACK.

Was Perfectly Bald When He Started to Use Newbro's Herpicide.

Frederick Manuell, Maryland block, Butte, Montana, bought a bottle of Newbro's Herpicide, April 6, '99, and began to use it for entire baldness. The hair follicles in his scalp were not dead and in 20 days he had hair all over his head. On July 2 he writes, "and today my hair is as thick and luxuriant as any one could wish." Newbro's Herpicide works on an old principle and with a new discovery—destroy the cause and you remove the effect. Herpicide destroys the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair, and finally baldness, so that with the cause gone the effect cannot remain. Stops falling hair at once and a new growth starts. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00.

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing Hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds; it strengthens; it offers real, genuine heart help.

If you would have strong Hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these nerves—re-establish them as needed, with

Dr. Shoop's Restorative

GEN. ROBERT E. LEE.

Next Saturday, the 19th of January, will be the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of General Robert Edward Lee.

He was born at Stratford on the Potomac, in Westmoreland county, the son of Colonel Harry Lee and Annie Hill Carter, Colonel Lee's second wife. The stately home had become the property of Colonel Lee through his marriage with the daughter of Philip Ludwell Lee in 1782. From Thomas Lee, of the third generation of Lees in Virginia, this mansion had descended to the heirs in the days of King George II. The tradition runs that Queen Caroline's admiration for the colonial officer led her to send a gift of money to Thomas Lee for the construction of a mansion befitting the dignity of the President of the Colonial Council.

Colonel Henry Lee ("Light-horse Harry"), Robert's father, was a son of a cousin of Richard Henry Lee, the statesman and patriot, and was a descendant from a long line of Lees who originally came to America, about 1640, from England.

Wearing a captain's sword, Henry Lee, entered the war in 1777, and did arduous service of scouting for Washington's army. He soon received the commander's commendation for "gallant behavior," and kept his men at hot work in the days of Brandwine and Germantown. During the winter of suffering at Valley Forge he was continually astir in bringing bread and beef to the starving soldiers.

As colonel, he witnessed the surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown, and celebrated his own victories by his marriage to the heiress of Stratford the following year. In 1792 he entered upon three years' tenure of office as Governor of Virginia, and in 1799 he was elected to Congress on the federalist platform.

Colonel Lee with his family moved to Alexandria, in 1811, where the schools were better adapted for the education of his children. In the trouble-filled days of 1812 he received a wound, that six years later resulted in his death, and young Robert was left in charge of his mother, now an invalid, to whom he devoted much care and attention.

Thus a man's part in life was assigned to the boy of a dozen years, whose elder brother were away at college and in the navy. Alexandria Academy furnished ample instruction for mind and morals, but the moulding hand of the mother was giving shape to that character which stands unrivaled for earnestness and self-sacrifice.

The young man's heart turned toward his father's calling, and it was decided he should seek admittance to West Point, where he was enrolled in 1825. No breach of discipline or any neglect of duty was ever charged against him during his years in the Academy. He attained the position of adjutant of battalion, and was graduated second in his class. Manliness, true and noble, was stamped upon the form and face of the second lieutenant of engineers who hastened to the waiting mother at the close of his four years' course.

She was granted only time to smile upon him with a mother's pride in her best-loved child, for in July, 1829, she passed away.

On Virginia's coast, in the construction of military defenses at Hampton Roads, was Lieutenant Lee's first service rendered to the Government. In 1831 he was married to Mary Randolph Custis, daughter of George Washington Parke Custis, and great-granddaughter of Martha Custis, the wife of General Washington, at Arlington, the Custis home.

The year of Lee's marriage saw the beginning of the abolitionist assault under Garrison's leadership. Mr. Custis, himself, was a believer in gradual emancipation, and left provision in his will that his servants should become freedmen a certain number of years after his death. As executor, Robert E. Lee carried out that provision to the letter, and in 1862 sent three manumitted servants with passes through his own military lines into the northern States.

Until the outbreak of the Mexican war, in 1846, Lee passed his days in the labors of an army engineer. Devotion to duty was his conspicuous characteristic. Strong affection for his family shone in all his acts. A quiet humor and hidden satire gave zest and color to his correspondence and familiar intercourse.

From 1834 to 1837, as assistant to the chief engineer of the army, he was busy with office work in Washington. During this period he dwelt at Arlington, and his handsome figure drew much attention as the gallant horseman passed daily along Pennsylvania avenue.

In 1837 Lee was placed in charge of the work of improving the navigation of the Mississippi river at St. Louis. In the following year he was advanced to captain of engineers. In 1839, Lee was offered a position as instructor at West Point in the proposed work of building up a skilled corps of sappers and miners for the army. But Lee, in a courteous reply, begged permission to leave the position "to abler hands" because of "an apprehension of being unable to realize your expectations."

In 1841 we find Lee in military charge of New York harbor, with headquarters at Fort Hamilton. There he remained until the war with Mexico in 1846. His work there kept him continuously busy. He declined to act as executor of the Carter estate because lack of time would render him "guilty of injustice to the legatees." Further he said: "My private affairs have suffered ever since I have been in the army from the impracticality of my attending to them."

General Meigs gives us a glimpse of Lee during the engineering days on the Mississippi as "a man in the vigor of youthful strength, with a noble and commanding presence, and an admirable, graceful and athletic figure. He was one with whom nobody ever wished or ventured to take a liberty, though kind and generous to his subordinates, admired by all women and respected by all men. He was the model of a soldier and the beau ideal of a Christian man."

In the 12,000 American soldiers who gathered around the walled town of Vera Cruz in March, 1847, was Robert E Lee, captain of engineers, and a member of General Scott's staff. At Arlington he left his beloved wife and seven children with his prayers and blessings. "I therefore trust * * * that this is the last time I shall be absent from you during my life."

General Scott spoke more commendingly of him than of any other officer, and in 1852 the Secretary of War assigned him to the position of superintendent of the West Point Military Academy, where he discharged his duties with signal success.

In 1855 he was promoted to lieutenant colonel of the Second Cavalry and sent to the scene of Indian troubles in western Texas, where he spent several years in garrison duty.

That hour was now at hand that required Lee to resign his commission in the army of the United States. His heart was full of love for the old Union, which his father had helped to establish. He did not believe in secession as a legal method for the redress of grievances. As to slavery, he said that "if he owned all the negroes in the South he would gladly yield them up for the preservation of the Union." He also loved his own people and his native State, and for Virginia he was ready to sacrifice property and life.

Francis P. Blair, at the suggestion of President Lincoln, came to offer Lee the command of the proposed army to invade the South. He candidly but courteously declined to take any part in the invasion, but upon reflection later forwarded his resignation to General Scott. Several days later, on invitation of the Governor of Virginia, he went to Richmond, where the convention tendered him the commission of commander of the forces of Virginia. In 1861 he was assigned the command of the forces of the Southern Confederacy.

On the morning of April 9, 1865, when General Lee found further hostilities useless, he said; "There is nothing left but to go to General Grant, and I would rather die a thousand deaths. How easily I could get rid of this, and be at rest! I have only to ride along the line and all will be over. But it is our duty to live. What will become of the women and children of the south if we were not here to protect them?" He arrayed himself in a new Confederate uniform and rode to the McLean house to hand over his army to Grant. The latter manifested no spirit of exultation

When the Confederate soldiers saw their beloved leader riding back from the place of negotiation their grief was unspeakable. They halted his horse and gathered in clusters about. Tears were running down every cheek as the grim, ragged veterans came up to wring his hand. Only sobs were heard or prayers uttered in broken words calling down the benedictions of heaven upon Lee. The tears in his own eyes formed his answer to the agony of his men. He could only say in a tone that trembled with sorrow: "Men, we have fought through the war together. I have done the best I could for you. My heart is too full to say more."

Arlington was then held by the federals, and in the latter part of June, 1865, Lee led his family to a quiet country home in Powhatan county, on the James river. There he busied himself in vain efforts to collect material for a history of his military campaigns.

On August 4, 1865, General Lee was elected president of Washington College, in Virginia. As the ideal hero of his people, he at once drew about him the young men of the South and Southwest. His ability in organization secured enlarged courses of instruction, and his name and fame brought increasing patronage and financial donations to the college. In 1871 a new charter changed the name of the college to the Washington and Lee University, under the presidency of his son, General G. W. Custis Lee.

On September 28, 1870, after a day of arduous labors, he stood at his table to ask God's blessing upon the evening meal. Not a syllable fell from his lips, and he sank into a chair. In the closing hours the spirit seemed to visit again the field of battle. His last words were: "Tell Hill he must come up!"

At half-past 9 on the morning of October 12, 1870, he died, and his body was placed in a mausoleum erected in the grounds of the college chapel. Beside him now lie the remains of his wife and of his daughter Agnes.

AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

THURSDAY EVENING, JAN. 17. 1907.

THE ELECTION OF Mr. Richardson as Senator from Delaware rings down the curtain on an unseemly comedy in Delaware politics. Instead of yielding to as persistent an attack as was ever made on the political morals of a commonwealth, Delaware, after nearly ten years of effort and annoyance, has freed itself from the grip of a mercenary speculator who thought a United States senatorship was to be acquired as easily as a controlling block of stock in a gas company. The people of Delaware are to be congratulated on being represented in the United States Senate neither by J. Edward Addicks nor by any one who owes his election to him. In speaking of the defeat of Mr. Addicks, the New York Tribune says:

The day of deadlocks at Dover is past, the union republican organization, with its motto of "Addicks or nothing," is disbanded, and Delawareans of the stamp of Mr. Du Pont and Mr. Richardson are once more in control in republican councils. Addicks is "down and out." His disappearance terminates a disgraceful episode and averts forever a long threatened national scandal.

GEORGE B. CORTELYOU'S nomination to the Secretaryship of the Treasury, to succeed Leslie M. Shaw on March 4 next, was unanimously confirmed by the Senate. Not a word was heard from those who had been saying things that were not nice about Mr. Cortelyou's activity as a collector of campaign contributions for the republican national committee in 1904. In this connection the Philadelphia Record says:

The idea seems to be that the President is responsible for the appointment, and whether it be a proper one or not is none of the Senate's business. It would go hard, however, if the Tillman bill to prohibit contributions by corporations to the expenses of national elections should not be passed by the House at this session in order to prevent a repetition of the scandals of the last and several preceding presidential campaigns. The enactment of this measure, which has already passed the Senate, would be some atonement for the condonation of past offenses.

CONSIDERING the prosperous condition of the country at large, the price at which New York Aldermen hold themselves—$500 per head—to vote for a designated candidate for the City Recordership does not seem extravagant. Eleven Municipal Ownership League Aldermen cast their votes for Judge Cowing on Tuesday as per arrangement, and the money was paid over. But the arrangement was a trap the rascals fell into. As soon as the money was paid the Alderman receiving it was arrested. The stakeholder confessed. Judge Cowing knew nothing about the transaction. It was a saddening exposure of Municipal Ownership League preachers and practices.

IN A speech in Baltimore Tuesday night Gov. Warfield said: "I was nominated by the democratic party and elected on that nomination as Governor of Maryland, but when I took the oath of office I became the Governor of the people irrespective of party creed." Gov. Warfield would not have spoken on these lines before he was nominated by the democrats. Then he was a party man and did all in his power to secure the party nomination, but ever since he was elected he has pretended to stand so straight that he has learned backward. Governor Warfield has been more the governor of the republicans than he has been of the people.

THE LONDON TIMES, in a severe indictment of American railway management, says it is clear that there are a few men in the United States who can make any railway, however large, show any kind of result that may suit their plans and speculations for the moment. If they want to get more ample control than they already enjoy they can cause an apparent depression and buy shares about as cheap as they please. If they want to realize they can make things as good as they please and unload at high prices. The London paper seems to have "sized up" the methods of American railroad magnates.

From Washington.

Washington, Jan. 17.

President Roosevelt, the members of the Interstate Commerce Commission, and four representatives of the Reciprocal Demurrage Convention will hold a conference at the White House this afternoon to determine what action if any can be taken against the railroads which are said to be holding hundreds of car loads of coal in Minneapolis and Chicago while whole communities in the northwest are literally freezing to death for need of the fuel.

The President, Secretary of State Root, Speaker Cannon and Governors Warfield, of Maryland, and Swanson of Virginia, were the principal speakers on the programme at a banquet given at the Arlington Hotel, in Washington, last night by the New York Board of Trade and Transportation to the delegates attending the convention for the extension of the Foreign Commerce of the United States. President Roosevelt, who spoke strongly in favor of the ship subsidy project, commendatory of the nation's work in Santo Domingo, pointed out the advantages the nation derives from the Monroe doctrine, and showed how Congress having failed, the executive power has been used to better the consular service. Governor Swanson spoke on "The South and its Industries." He made an eloquent and forceful speech, in which he told of what the South had accomplished in the history of the country.

The Oliver-Bangs bid to construct the Panama canal for 6.75 per cent on the estimated cost will probably be accepted by the Isthmian Canal Commission. At a conference held last night between the President, Secretaries Root and Taft, Chairman Shonts, and Counsel Rodgers, of the commission, the conclusion was reached that the precentage proposed by Oliver and Bangs was reasonable and could with justification be accepted by the government. The next higher regular bidders, the MacArthur-Gillespie Co., of New York, have asked for a hearing which will be granted their representatives tomorrow.

The navy stands ready to render an immediate assistance necessary for the earthquake sufferers of Kingston, Jamaica. Rear Admiral Evans, commander of the Atlantic fleet, is probably in Kingston harbor. He sailed from Guantanamo, Cuba, sometime after last evening, aboard the torpedo destroyer, Whipple, having abandoned his flagship, the Main, for the speedier craft. With Admiral Evans were a number of surgeons from the battleships who carried a quantity of medical and hospital supplies. The battleships Missouri and Indiana have also sailed from Guantanamo for Kingston and several supply ships will follow. A dispatch received at the State Department this afternoon signed "America Consul" stated that Kingston was destroyed and the legation practically destroyed. There are four consular posts on the island and the officials had no way of telling from whom the dispatch came.

There was a collision about 8:45 o'clock this morning at Ninth street and Pennsylvania avenue, between a car northbound and an Anacostia car. The motormen of the cars were B. R. Lovelace and W. S. Adams. J. G. Thomas, 44 years old, of 811 23th street, and L. L. Hammer, 16 years old, of 1718 F street, were thrown from the car and injured.

A dispatch was received by the Navy Department today from the Hamburg-American Line stating that the captain of the steamer President had reported from Port au Prince under yesterday's date that great caution is necessary in approaching Kingston as the bottom of the sea has changed. The lighthouse is also demolished.

"There is nothing in the later examinations made affecting the practicability or permanence of the Gatun dam." Such is the report of the engineer members of the Panama canal commission in respose to the charge made in the Senate committee that the borings made had failed to develop a satisfactory foundation for that great dam which is the key note of the lock canal plan at Panama.

The House committee on foreign affairs today virtually agreed on the Perkins bill which provides that any naturalization citizen who leaves the United States and lives in his own or any other country for an uninterrupted period of five years shall forfeit his citizenship.

The American National Red Cross will send a large quantity of food supplies to Kingston.

The House bill to regulate the blowing of steam whistles by tugs and other craft, was today reported favorably from the Senate committee on commerce.

The President sent the Senate today the nomination of Harry Libbey, to be Postmaster of Hampton Va.,

Ship-subsidy advocates of the House, fearful of the opposition of Chairman Burton, of the rivers and harbors committee, are today arranging a programme of action to draw the fangs of the Ohioan Mr. Burton, it is believed, will use the rivers and harbors appropriation bill as a club on members who desire improvement for their districts, which Mr. Burton will deny them if they come in favor of the ship-subsidy proposition. The plan to stifle Burton is to compel him to bring in the rivers and harbors appropriation bill early in the coming week and get it out of the way before subsidy is brought on the floor. If this programme can be forced, it is said by the subsidy advocates that many members can act with "freedom of purpose." Speaker Cannon is being interested in the move. If he approves of it, Mr. Burton will have to get his bill out of the way before subsidy is given consideration on the floor.

Fifty-ninth Congress.

Washington, Jan. 17.

SENATE.

The debate on the Brownsville case in the Senate took a new and significant turn today. Mr. Blackburn announced that he would propose an amendment to the Foraker investigation resolution which would in express terms exclude from consideration by the committee of military affairs the question as to the legal right of the President to issue his order dismissing negro troops.

Mr. Foraker, who had the floor to resume his remarks begun yesterday, expressed surprise that this issue should again be injected into the contsoversy, as the understanding had been that the question was one that could be taken up later.

Mr. Blackburn said he had not been a party to that understanding "I was referring to Senators on this side of the chamber," replied Mr. Foraker.

The Ohio Senator said he was surprised at Mr. Lodge for contending that the presidential authority came from Kingly powers. "I'm surprised at the Senator from Massachusetts, who came from the scene of the 'tea party', and Bunker Hill" he exclaimed. "All men will remember that our forefathers fled to this country that they might get away from the king and those who drafted the constitution did not attempt to create a king or kingly powers for any one to exercise."

Later, in presenting Alexander Hamilton as a constitutional interpreter he said he quoted from the time when lawyers were lawyers and were proud of their calling; when courts exercised their functions justly and fearlessly and "Senators were Senators who spoke on this floor as they talked in the cloak rooms."

After Mr. Foraker's speech the resolution was put aside for the day.

Senator Carmack called up his resolution declaring the regret of the Senate at the death of the late Senator Bate, of Tennessee, and extolling his life and services. Among those who delivered eulogies on the deceased Senator were Senators Carmack, Daniel and others.

HOUSE.

When the House met today it was decided to hold memorial services in the House Sunday, February 10, in honor of the late Representative Lester, of Georgia, in connection with those in honor of the late Representative Rockwood Hoar, of Massachusetts.

The House took up for further consideration of the District appropriation bill.

Representative Olmstead, (Pa), in an hour's speech defended the work of the Carlisle Indian school in his State. The reason for the defense, said he, was a reported attempt to knock out in the State the appropriation for the school.

News of the Day.

There was a report in Wall street yesterday that the Southern Railway intended to issue bonds or notes for many millions to carry out needed improvements

Rear Admiral Charles D. Sigsbee, who was captain of the Maine on the night of the destruction of the vessel in Havana harbor, has been placed on the retired list, having reached the age limit.

Supervising inspectors of the Steamboat Inspection Service from all stations in the country assembled in Washington yesterday in their annual meeting to consider such changes as have been proposed in the regulation of the service.

Commissioner of Corporations Garfield, while before the House committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce yesterday, indorsed the Townsend bill, providing for an investigation by presidential direction of all labor and capital disputes.

Speaker Cannon, in a speech to a delegation of the National Foreign Commerce Convention, which waited on him in the lobby of the House yesterday declared himself in favor of a maximum and minimum tariff and of the Littauer compromise ship subsidy bill.

After animated discussions at both sessions of the National Board of Trade, the organization put itself on record in Washington yesterday as being opposed to any legislation for the establishment of a parcels post and refusing to adopt a report recommending revision of the tariff customs.

The executive committee of the National Reciprocal Demurrage Convention laid before the President yesterday a memorial to amend the law so as to penalize the railroads for refusal to furnish cars when requested by shippers or failure to move cars when they have been loaded.

A cable dispatch from Bremen to Charleston, S. C., says that the steamship Wittekind sails from that port today for Charleston, bringing the second lot of immigrants direct to that section of the country. The first lot, which reached Charleston last fall, has been distributed through the manufacturing and milling centres of several of the South Atlantic States.

In the Senate yesterday the chief speech on the Brownsville affair was made by Mr. Carmack, of Tennessee. Other speeches were made by Messrs Knox, Money, Heyburn, and Stone. Senator Foraker offered his modified resolution and began his concluding argument. He concluded today, when it is hoped the vote will be taken. In the House Mr. Foster, of Vermont, supported the President's position in regard to the Japanese in San Francisco.

A lad was hauling a carboy containing ammonia from the basement to the floor of No. 155 Suffolk street in New York yesterday, when the carboy slipped from the rope, fell several feet and exploded with such tremendous force that the building rocked to its foundations. The fumes of the ammonia spread through the building, rendering unconscious more than a dozen men. Three of them were so seriously affected that they were taken to Gouverneur Hospital.

Rev. Laurence J. Kavanaugh, S. J., a professor in St. Joseph College, Philadelphia, and a prominent Catholic educator, is dead, aged 54 years. He was born in Newfoundland and studied theology at All Hallows College in Ireland. He came to America and entered Woodstock College, Maryland, where he took a course in philosophy and theology, and was ordained to the priesthood there in 1888. Following his graduation Father Kavanaugh taught in St. Francis College, New York; Woodstock College and at the Georgetown University. He went to Philadelphia two years ago from St. Peter's College, Jersey City, and became attached to the church of the Gesu, which controls St. Joseph's College.

Alleged Defaulter.

The late Congressman Robert Adams, jr., of Philadelphia, who committed suicide in Washington last year by shooting, was yesterday declared in the Orphans' Court in Philadelphia to have been a defaulter to the amount of $70,000. The startling assertion was made during an argument in surcharge proceedings brought against H. Carlton Adams, surviving executor and trustee of the estate of his father, Robert Adams, sr., by his stepmother, Mrs. Robert Adams, sr., and his stepsister, Mrs. Charles Moran, of New York. It was alleged that Congressman Adams had appropriated to his own use $70,000 worth of bonds belonging to the estate of Robert Adams, sr., and to H. Carlton Adams. It was also claimed that a part of the accumulated income of his father's estate, of which Congressman Adams had charge, was unaccounted for.

The Grand Jury Busy.

Judge Barksdale yesterday, in the Campbell County Circuit Court, issued a rule against County Treasurer Clay, returnable to the March term, to show cause why he should not be removed from his office for malfeasance and gross neglect of duty in office. The rule is the result of the recommendation made by the grand jury Tuesday that Clay be removed.

The jury yesterday returned about 15 indictments, one being against Magistrate John W. Fortune, of south Lynchburg, for failing to comply with the law requiring him to give official receipt for fines collected.

There are a number of indictments against railway contractors for working on Sunday and railway commissaries for selling liquor on Sunday.

The Alaska Packers Association are about to introduce the Argo Red Salmon in this market. They are the largest Salmon canners in the world, employing an army of 7,500 men, with a fleet of over sixty vessels, and the Argo is the choicest Red Salmon packed. It is caught in the icy waters of Bering Sea. The flesh is very firm, of a beautiful red color and delicious flavor. It sells at 15 cents a can, which is much below the price that good qualities of Salmon have sold for in the past.

Virginia News.

At the home of Elder T. F. Dalton, at Front Royal, Tuesday, Miss Hester Conroy was married to C. Y. Hall. Both reside at Marshall.

Miss Annie B. Ashby, of Washington, and Herbert J. Bickers, of Shenandoah county, visited Rockville, Tuesday afternoon, and were married.

The hound which bit nine persons in Norfolk a few days ago was rabid, and most of those bitten were sent to the Richmond Pasteur Institute.

John H. Larrick, one of the oldest and best known farmers in Frederick county, died at his home at Chambersville, yesterday, aged eighty-two years.

Judge A. M. Aiken, of Danville, has been designated by Governor Swanson to sit for Judge Grimsley, of Culpeper Circuit Court, in the hearing of the Strother shooting case at Culpeper.

Mrs. Maie Nelms Newton, of Newport News, and Mr. James Leroy Baxley, of Markham, Fauquier county, were married Tuesday afternoon at St. Paul's Episcopal Church at Newport News. Rev. J. Henning Nelms, of Philadelphia, brother of the bride, performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. A. O. Sykes, rector of the church.

Dr. L. S. Foster, the deposed superintendent of the Eastern State Hospital, at Williamsburg, following a legislative committee investigation, yesterday afternoon made good his threat of making disclosures before the General Hospital Board, now sitting at Williamsburg. Dr. Foster made direct charges of graft against Lane, Cole, Clowes and others. Lane, who was present, gave the superintendent the lie direct. Dr. Foster was then taken from the stand to prevent further trouble. Startling disclosures may be expected today, when Dr. Foster will again go on the stand. Williamsburg was in a furore of excitement over the incident last night. The testimony adduced during the day, as a whole, was greatly in favor of Dr. Foster.

Division Among Prelates.

The French Episcopate continued yesterday in session at the Chateau de la Muette, in Paris. The cardinals, archbishops and bishops are divided into two distinct parties—the ultramontanes, who are irreconcilable and determined to presevere in the efforts to compel the State to negotiate for a settlement with the Vatican, and those whose organ is the Croix, which openly advocates as the only means of possible victory the organization of a political campaign by the Catholics, under the leadership of the clergy, in order to secure a change in the government's attitude, and the liberals, or more liberal-minded prelates, who believe that the high dignitaries of the French church should do everything not specifically interdicted by the Pope, in order to maintain religious peace.

The latter consider that it is necessary to reckon with public opinion, which, they believe, will condemn open rebellion, especially as the government continues to affirm its desire not to close the churches, and accuses the episcopate of obeying the suggestions of the reactionary political parties. As the Pope's condemnation only covers the separation of church and State law and the new Briand law, amending the separation measure, the liberals favor taking advantage of the law of 1901 to form cultural associations under the common law. The Catholic papers, however, believe that the ultramontanes are in the majority.

At the close of yesterday's session dispatches were sent to the papal nuncio at Brussels, whence there is quick communication with Rome, the plan being to maintain a daily service with the Belgian capital so long as the French prelates are in session in Paris.

Famine and Smallpox.

A dispatch from Shanghai says: To the horrors of famine have been added an outbreak of smallpox among the refugees at Singkiang, necessitating the demolition of the mat sheds erected to shelter the thousands who have arrived in search of food.

Capt. Kirton, who was sent out by the relief committee to investigate the situation, reports that 300,000 destitute persons have been driven back toward their homes, and that terrible scenes are being enacted along the line of retreat. He estimates that a quarter of a million persons are likely to be doomed at Singkiang alone, and 400,000 at Antung, where small relief works have been started.

But the official records are generally puerile and amateurish. The distress is largely due to lack of means of communication and the fear that the Chinese officials might appropriate any work they undertake. The dikes being dilapidated renewed rains are certain to cause fresh floods. Every house in the neighborhood of Antung visited by Capt. Kirton contained dead bodies, or dying persons.

The relief committee, which has 150,000 taels at its disposal, has instituted relief work under foreign supervision.

It is indigested food that causes sourness and painful indigestion. Kodol is a solution of vegetable acids. It digests what you eat, and corrects the deficiencies of digestion. Kodol conforms to the National Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold here by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

State Council of Loyalists.

It was announced in Norfolk yesterday that the new State Council of the Virginia Branch, Junior Order United Americans, will be organized in two weeks under the charter recently secured from the State Corporation Commission by the Jr. O. U. A. M. "Loyalists" of Virginia who refused to return with the "Insurgent" Juniors following the victory of the latter in the court.

The incorporators under the new charter of the "Loyalists" met with the National Councillor of the Jr. O. U. A. M. in Washington last Saturday and all arrangements were completed for the affiliation of the "Loyalists" under their new charter with the National Juniors even though the name of the State Loyalist is different from that of the Nationals in that the word "Mechanics" is omitted in the official name.

The new charter gives the "Loyalists" the right to affiliate with the national body in the country willing to receive them and the National Councillor of the Juniors at Washington Saturday gave assurances that the "Loyalists" will be received under the protection of the National Council.—[Norfolk Ledger.

Today's Telegraphic News

TIDAL WAVE FOLLOWS EARTHQUAKE.

Havana, Jan. 17.—A second earthquake shock almost as severe as the first which devastated Kingston, is reported here this morning in a dispatch from Jamaica sent via Santiago. The second shock is reported to have tumbled down scores of already toppling buildings, but is not believed to have been attended by any great additional loss of life. There was no second conflagration.

Port Au Prince, Hayti, Jan. 17.—The shores of the harbor of Kingston are sinking and there is terror lest the city slip into the sea, according to a private despatch received by a large mercantile house here, today. The harbor floor is said to be sinking and the water in many places is now a hundred feet deep. Every wharf, not destroyed by fire, is said to have sunk into the sea or been rendered worthless.

London, Jan. 17.—A gigantic tidal wave has swept Annets Bay on the North Coast of the Island of Jamaica, according to a dispatch from Holland Bay, just recieved by the Evening Standard. It is reported that the entire coast line has been changed, and that great stretches of beach have sunken into the sea.

Additional reports say that a tidal wave has hit the north coast of Jamaica and miles of coast are reported to have been submerged.

The floor of the bay at Kingston has sunk, the shore is crumbling and the people are in terror lest the city slip into the sea.

Continued shocks of slight force, but sufficient to bring down tottering buildings, are felt.

Many casualties among English and Americans are now reported.

Foreign residents face epidemic of dysentery as the result of lack of proper food and inability to secure pure water.

Many victims believed to be suffering living deaths were pinned down in debris of collapsed buildings.

The work of rescuing is greatly hampered by danger from falling walls.

The dead are being buried in unmarked graves.

St. Thomas, Danish West Indies, Jan. 17.—This morning places the list of dead at Kingston at between 500 and 1,000.

The injured will number more than 1,000. Property loss in Kingston alone will exceed $15,000,000.

The new estimate of dead is based on discoveries of bodies in the ruins of wrecked buildings.

Thirty or forty persons were killed in the collapse of the Myrtle Bank Hotel.

Scores of persons are now believed to have perished and their bodies been consumed by the flames. It is probable on this account the full death list will never be known.

Upwards of a thousand persons killed, twice as many injured, and ninety thousand homeless, are the figures given out today in an estimate made by United States Consul Christopher Hayne.

When the sun rose on this, the third day after the earthquake, it was to witness the most terrible scenes enacted since the panic immediately following the shocks which brought buildings crashing on the helpless occupants. Everywhere the streets are filled with bodies of men and animals, which have not been removed. The stench from these is becoming unbearable. Yet it will be days before the evil can be eradicated.

Conditions outside of Kingston are as bad as in the city. Practically every building within a radius of ten miles was rendered unsafe for habitation. Thousands of persons are sleeping in the open air.

Famine has been added to the other horrors. Provisions for both man and beast are practically exhausted. The vaults of the banks, with all their contents, are believed to be safe, but money is of no avail, because no shops remain at which provisions can be purchased at any price.

Kingston, via Holland Bay, Jan. 17—The United States government will probably be called on today for aid for the American victims of the earthquake. Every white tourist on the island is in danger today, because of the food shortage. The natives will be able to get along for a few days by eating fruits and vegetables but a resort to this food by whites will certainly result in pestilence.

Kingston, via. Holand Bay, Jan. 17.—English and Americans did not all escape death and injury in Monday's disaster, as at first reported. The known dead include Captains Constantine and Young of the Royal Mail Steamship Company, Captain Lamont, who was soon to wed an American girl, Dr. Robertson and wife, Dr. Gidd Bradley, and B. Varley, a Mr. Sherlock, and Miss Lockett, and Sir James Ferguson.

London, Jan. 17.—A conservative estimate of the casualties in the recent Kingston earthquake places the number of dead at 1,200, according to a dispatch received by the Evening Standard from its correspondent at Kingston, sent from Holland Bay. The property loss, he says, will reach $25,000,000.

Will Test "Jack" Morgan's Genius.

New York, Jan. 17.—Wall street is awaiting a masked attack on the securities of the Morgan railroads and corporations to test the financial genius of "Jack" Morgan, who has succeeded his father, J. Pierpont Morgan, in the conduct of the affairs of the great Morgan banking firm.

J. Piepont Morgan himself has withdrawn from all active participation in the financial world. The beginning of the attack on the Morgan stocks was made yesterday, when assaults were made on Southern and Erie Railroads. Leading financiers are wondering if "Jack" Morgan will display his father's market acumen, and put to rout his foes.

J. Pierpont retires with a fortune estimated at about $150,000,000.

"Jack" Morgan is 38 years old.

Twenty Year Battle.

"I was a loser in a twenty-year battle with chronic piles and malignant sores, until I tried Bucklen's Arnica Salve; which turned the tide, by curing both, till not a trace remains," writes A. M. Bruce, of Farmville, Va. Best for old Ulcers, Cuts, Burns and Wounds. 25c at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists.

No Decision.

[Special dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.]

Richmond, Virginia, January 17.—The Wright case, from the Circuit Court of Alexandria county, was not decided by the Court of Appeals today.

The court granted a writ of error and supercedeas in the case of Barbara Pope vs. the Commonwealth, which came up from the Circuit Court of Alexandria county.

Etna and Vesuvius Cause Anxiety.

Catania, Sicily, Jan. 17.—Fears are entertained that an eruption of Mount Etna is about to occur. People are fleeing from the region for safety. Ashes are being thrown out by the violence, and subterranean rumblings have alarmed the inhabitants. The phenomena are almost similar to those occurring in 1893, when one of the worst eruptions occurred. The disturbances were first noted coincident with the Jamaica earthquake. According to Prof. Ricke, director of the Mount Etna observatory, nothing can be seen outside the volcano except smoke and a reflection of fire. He believes eruptions are occurring inside the volcano, or that the fire openings inside the crater, discovered in 1893, have increased in size.

Naples, Jan. 17.—Increased activity on the part of Mount Vesuvius, coincident with the Kingston earthquake, is reported by Professor Matteucci, director of the Mount Vesuvius observatory.

Heavy Fines Imposed.

New York, Jan. 17.—Judge Hough in the United States Circuit Court today, imposed a fine of $10,000 upon the MacAndrews and Forbes Company, of this city, and a fine of $8,000 upon the J. S. Young Company, of Baltimore, subsidiary concerns of the American Tobacco Company, which were found guilty of violating the Sherman anti-trust law. Both firms were found guilty of combining to control the output of licorice paste used in the manufacture of plug tobacco, and an agreement to maintain a monopoly of the trade. John D. Lindsay, counsel for the defense, asked for a stay of sixty days, which was granted, and the case will be carried to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

Negro Murderer Hanged.

Washington, Pa., Jan. 17.—Elmer Dempster, colored, was hanged here today at 10:08 o'clock. No special incident attended the execution. Dempster was a degenerate. To cover his crime of robbery during the absence of Samuel Pearce from his home, near Canonsburg, on Sunday evening, July 29, last, Dempster shot down Mrs. Pearce and her three little children. Three died almost instantly. One child survived nearly a week. Dempster was arrested the day following the murders and made a general confession, and narrowly escaped summary vengeance at the hands of Pearce's neighbors. Few spectators witnessed the hanging.

Frigid Conditions in New York.

New York, Jan. 17.—Riding on the back of a howling northeaster, a blizzard tore through New York today, accompanied by a heavy snow, which partially knocked out traffic and railroad transportation. Snow fell at the rate of an inch an hour and the thermometer stood at 15 degrees above zero. The blizzard came boiling and whirling from the ocean and the snow clogged the railroads and impeded the movements of trucks and wagons. There were frequent blockades of trolley lines and trunk lines reported all trains delayed.

Railroad Accident.

Philadelphia, Jan. 17.—The snow storm was partly responsible for a wreck on Philadelphia & Reading Railway, near Neshaminy Falls, this morning in which three employes of the company received more or less serious injuries and several other people sustained minor burns and hurts. The wreck was caused by a Trenton accommodation train, bound for this city, side-swiping a freight train which a few moments before had become derailed. That several persons were killed and many injured is considered remarkable.

Electric Cooking Made Easy.

Baltimore, Jan. 17.—Electric cooking in every household may revolutionize the modern kitchen should the experiments now being made by Dr. Harmon N. Morse, professor of analytic chemistry at Johns Hopkins University, prove to be of practical value. A few years ago Dr. Morse invented a new type of electric furnace. Lately, with Dr. J. C. Frazer, his assistant in research on the Carnegie foundation. Dr. Morse has so improved his furnace that he says it can be used for cooking.

King Edward Starts Relief Fund.

London, Jan. 17.—King Edward started a relief fund for the benefit of the Jamaica sufferers today, with a contribution of $6,000. Subscriptions have been opened at numerous places throughout London, and the relief contributions are pouring in from all sides. A number of continental subscriptions have already been received, and more are expected. It is probable a relief steamer will sail for Jamaica with food, medical supplies, and clothing, tomorrow.

Discount Rate Reduced.

London, Jan. 17.—The especial rate of discount of the Bank of England was reduced today by the directors from six to five per cent. The increase to 6 per cent was ordered on October 19, and at the time created something of a sensation in London financial circles.

Earthquake in the Mediterranean.

London, Jan. 17.—It is reported that a violent earthquake has occurred at Ischia, an Italian island in the Mediterranean. No details have been received.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Jan. 17.—The stock market was shifting and unsettled, declining and rallying frequently during the first hour and, except in a few issues, no important change was shown. There was continued liquidation in Erie, declining from 40 to 38¾, and Southern Railway lost ¾ to 28¾.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists. Price, 75c per bottle. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Investigating Aldermanic Scandal.

New York, Jan. 17.—The eleven municipal ownership league aldermen mentioned in the bribery case of William Clifford, charged with taking $6,000 for the delivery of eleven votes for Judge Cowing for recorder, spent another day of torture before the grand jury. Conflicting and confusing statements are said to have been made by the aldermen under examination. One of the aldermen is expected to "squeal" and make known the details of the alleged plot.

Woman Charged With Theft.

Mrs. L. V. Knight, a pretty young society woman, formerly of Atlanta, who has been making her home at Asheville, N. C., for the past year at the most fashionable and exclusive hotels, has been arrested, charged with the theft of valuable gowns. Mrs. Knight is a petite blonde, and was very popular in the younger society circles. After her arrest her trunks were searched and some very handsome gowns belonging to Mrs. W. H. Wilcox, who has been living in the same hotel with Mrs. Knight, and with whom she had been intimate, were recovered.

Several diamond robberies occurred last summer at one of the most fashionable hotels at Atlanta, and created big sensations. Miss Florence Giffen, of New Orleans, a popular young society woman and a granddaughter of Phil Oxnard, known as the sugar king, lost her jewels in the early part of the season, and the jewels of Miss Mabel Underwood, of Louisiana, disappeared later on in the season. Miss Underwood always kept her diamonds hidden.

Mrs. Knight was secretly arrested at Asheville Sunday night. She was allowed to give bond, and was to have been arraigned for trial Thursday, but suddenly left town. Mrs. Knight was very much excited when arrested, and declared she was innocent. She said she has been undergoing treatment at a sanitarium at Asheville.

Her husband, when told of his wife's arrest, fainted away. He left Asheville with her. He declares his belief in his wife's innocence.

Earthquakes and Their Causes

The Chicago Record-Herald has the following dispatch from Loudon:

"It is all the effect of the sun and the moon," said Hught Clements the meteorologist, yesterday regarding the Jamaica earthquake.

Professor Clements is the man who, on January 9, predicted earthquakes to take place in America on January 12.

"The sun and moon," he continued, "cause all earthquakes and every other natural disturbance. They produce atmospheric and lithospheric, as well as hydrospheric tides. The only difference is that the denser the medium the faster is the movement.

"The waves of the air, which are the least dense of the three media, have the slowest tides. Water is next and the earth is the most rapid. When the earth tides reach water they are blocked and force accumulates until an explosion results and all the earth quakes.

"All meteorological conditions can be accurately foretold by observation of the sun and moon and the tidal positions. I predicted the recurrence of the Vesuvius eruptions, the recent seismological shocks in northern Europe and missed the Kingston upheavel by only the matter of a day or so.

"The next earthquake will occur in Europe January 21 or thereabouts. It will be a repetition of the volcanic disturbances in Corinthia. No more earthquakes need be feared in the western Hemisphere in the immediate future."

House Applauds Sheppard.

"The democratic party is as eternal justice, with which it is synonymous, as indestructible as truth, for which it stands," was the keynote of a speech made yesterday in the House by Mr. Sheppard, of Texas.

For an hour and a half Mr. Sheppard held the House, while it had under consideration the District of Columbia appropriation bill. Incident to his coming out for Bryan for the democratic nomination of 1908, Mr Sheppard paid his compliments to the republican party, and especially to the "standpatters."

"The monarchical impulse is seen in the republican President who tries to regulate everything in the country from the size of families to the method of spelling," said Mr. Sheppard. "When he gets through with Congress he brandishes the 'big stick' above the cradle and the dictionary. The republican party in its wild career has piled Pelion on Ossa, Root on South America, Taft on Cuba and Roosevelt on Noah Webster. Since the President has begun to reform the dictionary the American people are preparing to go him one better and to give him an instance of simplified spelling he may not appreciate. They are going to spell President—B-r-y-a-n!"

Mr. Sheppard was accorded a great ovation, republicans and democrats alike congratulating him.

Senator Martin Going Abroad.

Senator and Mrs. Martin, will sail from New York on the Celtic for the Mediterranean Saturday morning. Senator Martin expressed his great regret at having to be absent any part of the Session of Congress, but Mrs. Martin's physicians find it necessary that she take a sea voyage and spend some months in a milder climate. The climate of Washington is too trying on the throat trouble with which Mrs. Martin has been suffering for some time. While her physicians do not think the trouble alarming they think she should have the benefit of a long sea voyage, and spend the winter in Italy, the south of France and Egypt.

It's a pleasure to tell our readers about a Cough Cure like Dr. Shoop's. For years Dr Shoop has fought against the use of Opium, Chloroform, or other unsafe ingredients commonly found in Cough remedies. Dr. Shoop, it seems, has welcome the Pure Food and Drug Law recently enacted, for he has worked along similar lines many years. For nearly 20 years Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure containers have had a warning printed on them against Opium and other narcotic poisons. He has thus made it possible for mothers to protect their children by simply insisting on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists.

Fined Plaintiff and Defendant.

On Tuesday afternoon Alice Cash, colored, whose jealousy had been aroused by a young colored woman named Hattie Level, went to a fisherman's ark on the north shore of Hunting creek where she found her husband, Charles Cash, with the woman. Cash was but partially dressed and the Level woman was also in scant attire. The latter, when she saw Cash's wife, seized her shoes, coat and an undergarment and ran bareheaded and barefooted through a brick yard to a friend's house where she procured a pair of shoes and a hat, after which she proceeded to her home. Cash prevented his irate wife from following the object of her vengeance. About 12 o'clock Tuesday night Cash's wife searched her husband's pockets, found the key of the ark, went to it and found a hat belonging to the Level woman, and upon meeting her yesterday assaulted her, for which she was arrested and brought before the Police Court this morning. The evidence in the case was laughable from start to finish, especially that of Fannie Stewart, one of the witnesses, who dramatically described the surprise and flight of the Level woman. Justice Caton imposed a fine of $5 upon both—the plaintiff for improper conduct and the defendant for assault. A warrant was also issued for the latter's husband.

The New Steel Works.

The big forge shop, the largest of the group buildings of the plant of the new steel works on the river at Giesboro, D. C., was illuminated for the first time a few nights since, it is stated, in a test made of the electric lighting plant at the new manufactory. The big building, which is two-thirds windows, was brilliantly lighted. Work on the finishing up of the office building and several of the smaller buildings at the plant is progressing rapidly, and it is said now to be only a question of a few weeks before operations will be started at the new plant. With the new reform school, the alms house and other buildings erected in the lower end of the District just above Alexandria, the new steel plant on the east side of the river, the new railway yards and Luba Park on the west shore all brilliantly lighted up the Potomac between Washington and this city will be so illuminated that vessels will have no difficulty finding channel marks even on the darkest nights.

Memorial Services.

The following is the programme of the memorial services to Gen. Robert Edward Lee to be held in Christ Church, Alexandria, Saturday, January 19th, at 12 o'clock noon: Processional hymn, "Onward, Christian Soldiers;" opening sentences (Psalm 97:37; Rev 14:13); Lord's Prayer; Psalms 1 and 15 to be read responsively; lesson taken from 11th chapter of Hebrews; hymn, "Prayer is the Soul's Sincere Desire;" Apostles' Creed, collects and prayers; hymn, "How Firm a Foundation, ye Saints of the Lord;" addresses by Rev. Dr. W. F. Fisher and Rev. Wm. J. Morton; closing hymn, "For all the Saints, who from their Labors rest;" benediction. The addresses are to be short, and the whole service will occupy only about an hour.

As heretofore stated, the Confederate Veterans, Sons of Veterans and the Woman's Auxiliary will attend. The public is invited.

Proposed New Line.

People in position to know still maintain that a new Norfolk line of steamers will be in operation on the Potomac within the next few months. The new company which has acquired the River Queen, Notley Hall and certain wharf privileges in Washington will, it is said, bring the steamers City of Brockton and Connecticut from New York and place them on the line before the opening of the Jamestown Exposition. The Connecticut was built at Noank, Conn., in 1886. She is 345 feet 6 inches long, 49 feet beam, gross tonnage 3,399, net 1,872, indicated horse power 4,000. The City of Brockton was built at Chelsea, Me.; in 1894. Her length is 271 feet, beam 43 feet, gross tonnage is 2,771 net 1,911 indicated horse power, 2,250. Both are well-known Sound steamers.

Fined Fifty Dollars.

Officers Lyles and Knight last night ascertained that William Jackson, a young colored man, was armed with a pistol and bent upon using it upon a darkey with whom he had had trouble. The officers traced Jackson to a "Petersburg" saloon and found him sitting upon a piano. He was taken in custody and a pistol nearly a foot long was found in his bosom. Jackson was brought before Justice Caton this morning, when he stated that he had purchased the weapon in Washington, and was carrying it for the purpose of defending himself against a strange negro who was armed with a knife and a pistol. He was fined $50 and in default of payment will be sent to jail for 90 days. Jackson was released from jail last October after having served a long term.

Corporation Court.

[Judge L. C. Barley, presiding.]

City Council vs. J. A. Deinelt; appeal from a decision of the police justice who had imposed a fine for selling cocaine; jury and verdict of not guilty.

City Council vs. W. J. B. Duncan; a similar case as the above; jury and verdict of not guilty.

E. E. Lawler & Co. vs. Washington-Southern Railway Co.; damage suit for delay in delivering freight; jury and case in progress.

Children's Home.

The Children Home will be open from 5:30 to 7 o'clock this evening. The many friends who so kindly assisted the Lady Maccabees in procuring the furniture for the hall are kindly invited to visit the home and note the improvements which have been made. Mrs. Howard M. Hoge, State President of the W. C. T. U, was present at the regular business meeting of the Allison W. C. T. U, which was held this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Children's Home.

Meetings.

The annual meeting of stockholders of the New Washington Brick Company was held today at No. 111 south Fairfax street when the following directors were elected: Theodore L. Holbrook, Chas. J. Bell, William F. Mattingly, Enoch L. White, Nathaniel Wilson, William A. Richards, Ward Thoron, William T. Galliher and Park Agnew.

The annual meeting of stockholders of the Potomac Stone Company was held today at No. 128 south Fairfax street when the following were elected: Ward Thoron, president and director; Charles G. Smith, vice-president and director; J. N. Bonaparte, treasurer and director; Charles G. Smith, jr., secretary and director; C. J. Bell, director; R. A. Phillips, director.

The annual meeting of stockholders of the Columbia National Sand Dredging Company was held today at No 128 south Fairfax street. The following directors were elected: C. J. Bell, Henry

The following officers and directors of the Columbia Stone Quarries, Incorporated, were elected today: Joseph H. Bradley, President, Treasurer and Director; Robert C. Hayden, Secretary and Director; James H. Hayden, Director, and S. Duncan Bradley, Director. Wells, Philip Mauro, C. B. Pearson, Zenas C. Robbins, James H. Hayden and Joseph H. Bradley.

The following officers and directors of the J. H. Bradley Company, Incorporated, were elected today: J. H. Bradley, president and director; S. Duncan Bradley, vice-president, treasurer, assistant secretary and director; James H. Hayden, director, and J. M. Holzberg, director.

The annual meeting of the Atlantic Building Company was held today, at No. 123 south Royal street, for the election of directors and officers.

Police Court Reversed.

As will be seen by the proceedings of the Corporation Court elsewhere in the Gazette, that tribunal today reversed the judgment of the Police Court in the cases of J. A. Dienelt and W. J. B. Duncan, both of whom had been fined $75 by Justice Caton after having been cited to appear on the charge of the unlawful sale of cocaine. The preparation which had been disposed of by the defendants is known as a catarrh cure, and was said to contain a percentage of cocaine. The justice in imposing the fines did so under the city law which forbids the unlawful sale of the narcotic or any preparations thereof. The jury, however, from the evidence adduced did not believe the accused were acquainted with the formula of the preparation and that they did not knowingly violate the law. Hence their verdict of acquittal. Mr. G. L. Boothe represented Mr. Dienelt and Mr. C. C. Carlin Mr. Duncan. Corporation Attorney Fisher appeared in behalf of the City Council.

Gen. Lee's Birthday.

The plans for the exercises in Alexandria in connection with the one-hundredth anniversary of the birth of Gen. Robert E. Lee have been practically completed. In the morning appropriate exercises will be held in the schools and at noon memorial services will be held at Christ Church, the programme for which is published elsewhere. The banks and some of the public offices will be closed, as the day is a legal holiday in Virginia. At night the veterans of Lee Camp will give their annual banquet, to be served by the ladies' auxiliaries to the camp, at Confederate Veterans' Hall. Congressman John Lamb, of Richmond, will respond to the toast, "Gen. Lee;" Mr. C. C. Carlin will speak for the Sons of Veterans, and Mr. J. M. Johnson for the Confederate Veterans.

Reliance Fire Company.

At the meeting of the Reliance Fire Company, held on Tuesday night, a committee was appointed to make arrangements for a concert to be given at the Opera House in the near future for the benefit of the company. A committee was also appointed to confer with the members of the Columbia and Relief Hook and Ladder companies for the purpose of considering the feasibility of holding a carnival next spring.

In the list of recently-elected officers of the Reliance Fire Company, published in yesterday's Gazette, the following were inadvertently omitted: J. E. Pollard, secretary; W. H. Bontz, jr., treasurer, and Andrew Sullivan, recorder.

Police Commissioners.

A regular meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners was held last night.

Chief Goods presented his regular monthly report, together with a report of the arrests made during the past six months and in reference to other matters.

A communication was received from the policemen asking for an increase of pay. They call attention to the fact that the cost of the necessaries of life, house rent, &c., have advanced. The communication is signed by all the members of the force, and the names of about twenty city merchants, who approve of the increase, are appended. The paper will be referred to the City Council.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

William Jackson, colored, arrested by Officers Knight and Lyles charged with carrying a pistol, was fined $50.

Alice Cash, colored, charged with assaulting Hattie Level, colored, was fined $5. The complainant was also fined $5 for improper conduct.

The Last of That Lot of $5 and $6 Walking Skirts,

The character of these Skirts should be borne in mind—style, fit, finish and material. We could on several occasions have sold the entire lot at wholesale at $1.98 each (that ought to convey to you an idea as to their worth), but we prefer to give our store friends the benefit of extraordinary values as they come to us.

You'll find among them Skirts of black thibet, blue and white and brown and white mixtures, and gray and black plaids—in two good styles—waist measurements 23 to 27; lengths 40 to 41.

Tomorrow, Friday, Is REMNANT DAY.

On tomorrow all broken assortments, odd lots, short lengths, remnants from whatsoever cause, will be offered at prices very much below their intrinsic value. There is no place in our stock for merchandise that is not absolutely perfect and that does not furnish a satisfactory assortment. Remnants are the natural consequence of healthy trade, and we take this method of clearance. The saving to be affected is very material, and in most instances the items are perfect. All remnants are plainly marked and the original prices at which sold noted upon the tickets. Every department throughout the store offers items of interest to careful buyers, and the collection for tomorrow will be particularly interesting.

January Sale of
WHITE GOODS

The Sale of 1907
Embroidery.

Exquisite designs, good qualities, exceptionally reasonable prices.

At the beginning of what promises to be an extremely popular season for Embroideries and Laces we have left nothing undone to provide immense assortments of new designs and patterns in every imaginable variety of Swiss Nainsook and Cambric Edgings, Insertings, Flouncings, Beadings, Match Sets, Corset Cover Designs, All-overs, &c., bought months ago. Prices are but little more than the wholesale prices prevailing in the St. Gall (Switzerland) market.

Sale of Beautiful New White Goods for Spring and Summer, 1907.

Choicest styles and attractive price inducements for early buyers.

All the freshest and handsomest dainty white fabrics that have been conjured by the loom wizards of Europe and America have been gathered on a newly broad scale in keeping with the expansion of this enlarged business. It is a collection second to none and acknowledges no superior, if any equal. Comparison will prove that buying here means sure profiting for you.

The Sale of Muslin Underwear is the Best and Biggest in Our History

The women who are concern with the getting of most for their money will find deep interest in this annual sale of Muslin, Nainsook and Cambric Underwear. Quality has not been sacrificed in order to make the prices low, this store does not operate on such a principal. We've seen to it that our high standards have been rigidly upheld in every detail, no matter how trifling those details may seem to some stores. Although prices of cotton fabrics have been way up, for a long time, we have found it possible to give the rarest kind of bargains. Note the fineness of materials, the careful making, the pretty trimmings you may be sure the savings are genuine. Hoping to be favored with your presence, we remain, yours truly,

New York Daily Tribune.

If you want a publication that serves up so much gore and so many thrills in every issue and do not care whether what you read is true or false, it is money thrown away to buy the Tribune. If, however, you are looking for a daily history of the world, carefully collated and sifted, you cannot make any mistake in reading the Tribune every day. The Daily Tribune contains special articles on nearly every subject which interests intelligent and clean-minded people, to say nothing of the instructive editorial articles and reviews of books, music, art and the drama. Invest $1 and get the Daily and Sunday Tribune by mail for a month. With the Sunday Tribune goes a handsome Illustrated Supplement and a Magazine equal to anything sold for ten cents

N. Y. Tribune Farmer.

The Tribune Farmer has no superior anywhere in this world as a publication for farmers and their families. Everything worth knowing about the theory or practice of farming is treated by men recognized as experts in their various lines. The Tribune Farmer keeps the farmer in touch with all the latest improvements by text and pictures. Besides this it has features to interest the women folk. The price is $1 a year. For a free sample copy send a postal to the New York Tribune, New York.

N. Y. Tri-Weekly Tribune

The Tri-Weekly Tribune is issued on Monday, Wednesday and Friday of every week, and contains the essence of the Daily Tribune for the whole week. The Tri-Weekly Tribune gives much prominence to special articles, written by experts, on subjects of direct interest to dwellers outside the big cities. Price, $1.50 a year. For a free sample copy send a postal card to the New York Tribune, New York.

The Sonnet Writers.

The fashion of sonnet writing was at its height in the sixteenth century, when Rousard, the French "prince of poets" in his own country and generation, wrote over 900 sonnets, a total which appears only to have been exceeded by Gomez de Quevedo, the Spanish Voltaire, who is said to have written over 1,000. Fortunately for sonnet lovers some of the best poets have been prolific sonneteers. Petrarch, who created the classic model which later poets imitated, wrote 315. Camoens is responsible for 352, Sir Philip Sidney wrote 108, Spenser 88 and Dante 80. English sonnets were first written by Sir Thomas Wyatt (1503-42) and Henry Howard, earl of Surrey (1517-47), and the first appearance of any in book form was in a rare publication briefly known as "Tottle's Miscellany," the full title being "Songs and Sonnettes written by the Right Honoure Lorde Henry Howard, late Earle of Surrey, and other." The greatest sonneteers of our language are Shakespeare, Milton, Wordsworth and Rossetti.—London Standard.

Tiger and Vulture of the Sea.

If the "killer" whale is "the tiger of the sea," as the writer of an interesting article in the September Windsor has it, the orcas surely are the vultures of the ocean. In connection with whale catching the author of this interesting natural history article tells of the following incident: Some years ago a whaler in the northwest had killed a large whale and had the animal alongside when it was attacked by a school of orcas. They doubtless were half starved and, crazed by the scent of blood that extended away a long distance, probably followed it up like hounds, immediately attacking the whale. The men, with spades and lances, cut and slashed at them, inflicting terrible blows, yet despite this the orcas literally tore the whale from the ropes and carried it off. This certainly shows that the orcas, together with a very fair share of intelligence, are also creatures of extraordinary courage.—Dundee Advertiser.

Always In Trouble.

A still summer's evening, quiet and almost sad. The trees nodded sleepily, as if hushing the world to rest. Suddenly the silent beauty was rudely disturbed. The clattering of a horse's hoofs broke the silence into a thousand echoes. A horseman dashed through the scented lanes, rage glittering from his eyes. He sprang from his horse and rushed into the still homestead and dragged forth Farmer Brown.

"Why, what be matter, Squire Tampson?" queried the worthy farmer in sleepy surprise.

"Matter?" repeated the squire. "Why, matter enough, to be sure! Your great lubberly son Jack has run off with my beautiful daughter Maud."

"Has he, really?" cried the farmer, now thoroughly awake. "Thee'rt right t' call 'im a lubberly idjut. He's allus doin' somethin' clumsy. Only last week he went an' broke a shovel!"—London Express.

Melting Fire Clay With Sun's Rays.

There is an apparatus which concentrates the rays of the sun from more than 6,000 small mirrors on a spot about seven inches in diameter. The heat generated is about 7,000 degrees F. Iron can be melted in less than a minute and fire clay fused in about three minutes by this machine. Magnesia, one of the hardest things to melt, requiring a heat of about 6,400 degrees F., can be reduced to a molten state in twenty minutes. For the benefit of those who wish to forget the name of this instrument it is called the pyrheliophor.

Protective Colors of Animals.

I seem to trace a faint clew to the connection between the protective coloring and the mind in the intense desire of the fox to remain concealed and unseen. That this is a possible theory we infer from the fact that a blind animal does not change color. Put a dozen minnows into an ordinary white wash hand basin and they will in a very short time be of a pale color. If over one no change passes we may be tolerably certain that it is blind.—From Dale's "The Fox."

Guess Again.

"I have a pleasant surprise for you, Miss Sharply."

"Can I guess what it is, Mr. Boresome?"

"You may try, Miss Sharply."

"Let me see. I guess you are going to tell me that you intended leaving the city."

"Good night, Miss Sharply."

"Good night, Mr. Boresome."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Monotonous.

"Wealth has its disadvantages," said the philosopher.

"Yes," answered the man with sporting inclinations. "It must be very monotonous for a man to be able to bet $5,000 or $10,000 on a horse race without caring whether he loses it or not."—Washington Star.

Sounded Expensive.

A Tragic Finish.

A watchman's neglect permitted a leak in the great North Sea dyke, which a child's finger could have stopped, to become a ruinous break, devastating an entire province of Holland. In like manner Kenneth McIver, of Vanceboro, Me., permitted a little cold to go unnoticed until a large tragic finish was only averted by Dr. King's New Discovery. He writes: "Three doctors gave me up to die of lung inflammation caused by a neglected cold; but Dr. King's New Discovery saved my life." Guaranteed best cough and cold cure at E. S. Leadbeater & Son's drug store. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Mothers who give their children Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup invariably indorse it. Contains Honey and Tar. Conforms to the National Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

Women's Pains

"I was a total wreck," writes Mrs. Beulah Rowley, of Champoeg, Oregon, "from pains I had suffered, for 4 years, every month. Sometimes I would be unconscious for 12 hours at a stretch. I did not know that anything could stop the pain entirely, but Wine of Cardui did. I advise all women suffering with painful periods to use Cardui and be relieved."

It does this by regulating the functions and toning up all the internal female organs to health. It is a pure, specific, reliable, female remedy, with a record of 70 years of success. It has benefited a million others. Why not you? Try it.

PRICE ONE CENT. THE SUN.
(BALTIMORE, MD.)

All subscribers in District of Columbia, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Pennsylvania, Delaware and throughout the United States can get the Sun at 1 cent a copy.

The Sun At One Cent

Is the cheapest high-class paper in the United States.

The Sun's special correspondents throughout the United States, as well as in Europe, China, South Africa, the Philippines, Porto Rico, Cuba and in every other part of the world, make it the greatest newspaper that can be printed.

Its Washington and New York bureaus are among the best in the United States, and give the Sun's readers the earliest information upon all important events in the legislative and financial centers of the country.

The Farmer's Paper.

The Sun's market reports and commercial columns are complete and reliable, and put the farmer, the merchant and the broker in touch with the markets of Baltimore, Norfolk, Charleston, New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and all other important points in the United States and other countries.

The Woman's Paper.

The Sun is the best type of a newspaper morally and intellectually. In addition to the news of the day, it publishes the best features than can be presented. The Sun is published on Sunday as well as every other day of the week.

By mail the Daily Sun, $3 a year; including the Sunday Sun, $4. The Sunday Sun alone, $1 a year.

Address A. S. Abell Company, Publishers and Proprietors, Baltimore, Md.

The American Magazine.

Ida M. Tarbell, who wrote Lincoln and the famous "History of Rockefeller;" William Allen White, the well-known Kansas editor; F. P. Dunne, creator of "Mrs. Dooley"; Ray Stannard Baker and Lincoln Steffens are under the leadership of John S. Philips, now editor the American Magazine.

Never before has such a brilliant group been gathered together, and they are not only contributing themselves, but are filling the magazine with the very best novels and short stories and great timely articles by other famous writers and beautiful pictures by great artists.

A Great Bargain.

The regular price for the twelve numbers of the American Magazine is $1.20—little enough as it is, but for a limited time you can get the November and December, 1906, numbers, with a full year's subscription for 1907, for a dollar, or

14 Numbers for Only $1.00

Think of it! Think of the quality of reading you get for $1.00. Think of the quantity—at least two great novels, 98 short stories, 28 poems, 70 timely articles, 800 beautiful pictures, and all for $1.00.

How About Your Winter Reading?

Cut this offer out, write your name and address on a slip of paper and mail it with $1.00. Send it now—today—before the special 14 months' offer is withdrawn. Send it by check, postal money order or a dollar bill, at the publisher's risk, to the American Magazine, 141 Fifth Avenue, New York City.
